OSPAR Data Licencing

In line with OSPARs work to make access to data as open as possible, a data licence that enables maximum reuse of OSPAR data, with minimum inhibition is important. To this end, the OSPAR Data and Information Management System (ODIMS) makes use of the Creative Commons Zero (CC-0) licence and the OSPAR Assessment Portal (OAP) makes use of the Creative Commons BY (CC-BY) licence.

ODIMS

Further information on Creative Commons Zero (CC-0), is available here: https://creativecommons.org/publicdomain/zero/1.0/

The following citation can be used though is not a term for data use: Data Source: OSPAR Data and Information Management System, https://odims.ospar.org/
Further information on Creative Commons BY (CC-BY-2.0), is available here:
https://creativecommons.org/licenses/by/2.0/

Citation: OSPAR Commission, Licensed under CC-BY-2.0, [Title], [Modifications], [URL: https://oap.ospar.org/[add direct link to dataset or metadata]